

The Black Knight and Squire G Show

Fact Sheet

Overview

The BKSG show has its roots in the zany, impromptu, stream-of-consciousness Chicago talk radio programs pioneered by Steve Dahl, Garry Meier, Johnny B, Kevin Matthews, and others. Now in it's 6th year, the show combines talk, humor, topical discussion, music, live guests and listener calls in a radio tour-de-force that has been described by a listener as "...one of the very few things that gets a genuine laugh from my heart. I find it very refreshing that you can take the ills of the world and turn them into something we can laugh at."

Bios

James Arthur Jancik (the Black Knight of Talk Radio) hosts both the BKSG show and "Feet To The Fire", and produces a variety of other shows. His early years were spent as a musician, singer, and sound engineer for Haymarket Riot, Sushi & the Mungmen, and other bands.

Gary Hermann (Squire G) cohosts the BKSG show. An accomplished musician and singer, Gary also contributes original songs and song parodies to the show. He is always on the search for new talent to showcase.

Writer Rex Ungericht provides skits, bits, and parodies. The BKSG Show has produced three CDs of parodies written by Rex and performed by James and Gary.

Comedian Jay "Capone" Stephen brings a quick wit, a closet full of impersonations, and tales from the world of films.

Musician and singer Don Candu drops by to share old and new tunes and talk about the Chicago music scene.

DJ Cherokee Leather sings, chats, and tries to maintain order in the midst of a whirlwind of comedic chaos.
